

Prayer to Diana

Roman Goddess of the Moon and the Hunt.
Protectress of woodlands and wild animals.

Symbols: Bow and quiver, deer, hunting dogs, crescent moon.

Titles: Trivia, Mother Goddess of Nature, Bringer of Light.

In Diana's strength secure, we'll sing our song to Her.
As becomes a chorus of pure youths and maidens.
She meant that you would gain green woods as your domain,
all mountainous terrain, dark groves, and rivers.

Your monthly cycles divide the course of the year.
You guide the farmer's harvest inside his rustic buildings.
By any name you crave be blest and may you save Roman wealth.

O Diana, This prayer is an acknowledgment that my soul is complete in your Love and your Grace.
In your generous hands I place my request,
Knowing that you only want what is best for my destiny.

With your bow and arrow you guide me,
And teach me to give and receive your love.
You cleanse my spirit of all emotional poison
and all judgment, to live in peace and love.

I accept my body as it is, in all its beauty and perfection.
The love I feel for myself is so strong that I can never deny or obstruct my happiness, my freedom.

Under a crescent moon, or a blue sky,
I walk with you, and in you I trust.
