

Prayer to Brigid

Celtic Goddess of the hearth, home, and inspiration. Patroness of poetry, healing, and smithcraft.

Symbols: Brigid's cross, Fire, Harp, Dandelion, Sacred well.

Other names: Brighid, Bríg, Brigantia, Brigit.

Weave a web and tell a story,
oh Bríg, so that those who weave as well may understand.

Blessed Bríg, grant your peace and patience across the land.
Every hill, every valley, every river and stream shall sing your praise.

Lady Bríg, I call to you.
Come into my home
and sit upon my hearth.

Bless my home and family with the protection you have to offer.
A bed is always here for you,
Lady Bríg, if you would have it.

I call to you as I weave my web,
paint my picture, and write my story.
May your blessings be ever present in my life.
