

Moondrop Blessing

This is a very simple ritual that transfers the energies of the Full Moon to your clothes or home with a simple chant.

- 1 bowl full of drinking water

First we are going to bless the water with an intention under the light of a Full Moon.

1. Place the bowl where it will be lit by moonlight, preferably outside, but it could be by a window inside.

As you place the water in the moonlight, consecrate it by saying:

"Dear Moon, thank you for this Sacred Water, which is already helping me with _____"

State your intention.

2. Leave the water rest for a few hours before collecting it. Store it in a dark place.
3. Before leaving to work, place on your bed the clothes that you'll be wearing today.

The Spell

4. Use your fingers to sprinkle some Full Moon water on them. While doing this, say the following chant:

*"Shield and protect me from the Evil Eye.
Fill me with brilliant, cleansing light.
May only good come my way,
Gentleness and care on this workday."*

3. Visualize the good things that will happen today. Smile to yourself and give thanks.
