

A SPELL FOR RAIN

YOU WILL NEED:

- A blue or silver candle
- A bowl of water
- Fresh mint or basil
- A bell, small drum, or rain stick
- Offerings for a rain deity

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Find an outdoor space or a window with a view of the sky. Cleanse your space with incense or herbs, focusing on clearing stagnant energy.
2. Take a moment to ground yourself. Stand barefoot if possible and visualize roots extending from your feet into the Earth.
3. Light the candle and say the following:

“By this flame, I call to the heavens.
Let my intention rise like smoke,
bringing the gift of rain to this land.”

4. Now it is time to invoke the deity you have chosen. If you would rather call to the spirits of the land you live on, that works just as well. Be sure you have an offering for them prepared ahead of time.
5. Use your bell, drum, or rain stick to mimic the sound of rainfall. As you do so, chant the following:

“Rain from the heavens, fall to the earth.
Quench the soil, bring new birth.
By air, fire, water, and stone,
Let rain come to this land, my will be known.”

6. Pour the bowl of water onto the ground as an offering. Visualize your intention manifesting as real rain.
7. Thank the elements and deity for their presence, extinguish the candle, and ground yourself again to release any excess energy you are storing.
