MARCH

The Moon of Awakening

The third month of the Solar calendar and the gateway to Spring, March is named after Mars, the Roman god of war and vitality. It marks a time of renewal, action, and awakening as nature stirs from winter's slumber. Known in Pagan traditions as the Moon of Awakening, Seed Moon, or Plow Moon, this month symbolizes preparation, growth, and the return of life. The Worm Moon, the last full moon of winter, signifies thawing earth and the emergence of new beginnings.

*March ushers in renewal,
with the Full Worm Moon
lighting the way to Ostara,
where light and growth return
in balance.*

4. Light the red candle and write down something you wish to release.
5. Burn the paper safely, saying: "By the fire of the Blood Moon's might, I surrender this burden to the night."
6. Sprinkle salt into the water, saying: "I cleanse, I purify, I realign, With Virgo's wisdom, I claim what's mine."
